

Steve Conaway implements land management and directs outreach programming on the Greenwich Land Trust's 74 properties. Steve's BS degree from the University of New Hampshire is in Environmental Horticulture and his PhD research at Penn State University focused on the biological control of invasive weeds with host-specific plant pathogens.